Be a good witness, don't take chances with house-breakers

By John Campbell

A year ago Huntington Township Fire Chief Glenn Locke, his wife and their two children were sound asleep in their Crookston home when it happened .wo teenagers broke into their home.

Locke was jolted into taking action when his wife gave him "a jab in the ribs (and whispered) 'Some-body's in the house!"

It was 4:05 a.m. The guy turned the (living room) lights on, that's what woke us up," Locke told a gathering of more than 80 firefighters from across two counties last Wednesday at the Huntington Township fire Locke admitted he napped" when he realized what was happening.

He took after the pair in his own vehicle "with full intentions of running (them) off the road.

He abandoned his pursuit after two miles, however, because of fog, but he helped the OPP nab the culprits by reporting their flight immediately to police.

Later, however, he learned it may not have been such a good idea to leave his property to give chase because he "would have been in more trouble than the two people" who broke into his home.

The experience led him to invite Constable Dave Craig of the Quinte-Madoc OPP to address the firefight ers' monthly Mutual Aid meeting to advise them on how citizens should respond when faced with the same

Over 700 charged during area aggressive driving campaign

Police laid over 700 charges during an aggressive driving campaign con-ducted on Highway 7 between Marmora and Perth between June 9-22 RIDE Unit and Traffic Management officers of the OPP East Region ticketed 701 drivers for speeding with the highest speed clocked at 75 kilometres over the limit.

Ninety-five additional drivers were charged, with other traffic offenses, two criminal charges were laid. and two radar detectors were seized.

During June, 2384 cars were checked during the RIDE program, and two impaired charges resulted. Five criminal code charges 2384 cars were laid, and eight radar detectors were seized.

The East Region RIDE/ Traffic team are now using a laser speed detection unit as part of their equipment inventory to aid in the apprehension of speeding

The fastest car clocked during June was travelling 182 kilometres in a 100 km zone -- if convicted the fine for this is $964.40.

Police would like to remind motorists that it is an offence to drive a motor vehicle without a front plate attached to the forward most part of the vehicle. tion of this can cost $105 in fines.

In October they made over 40 Halloween tray fa-yours for the Meals on Wheels participants.

In November they marched in the Santa Claus

Parade and the Remembrance Day Parade proudly carrying the Canadian flag.

In December they joined the Pathfinders and went Christmas carolling at the senior citizens and retirement homes in Madoc

in January they started the New Year by assisting with the Afzheimers Awareness Tag Day at the Madoe 1GA where they handed out 80 brochures and collected $148.78 in donations

In February they joined their fellow Guiders from Marmora and Tweed to honour Guide and Scout founders Lord and Lady Baden-Powell.

In April they helped the 1st Madoc Brownie Unit conduct a Litter Chase in the streets, churchyards and schoolyards of Madoc; and delivered Girl Guide cookies to the doorsteps of Madoc and area residents.

In May they held a Penny Drive in Madoc to support the Hearts of Hastings Hoscoins. They hiked to the Madoc Swimming Pool Park and picked up litter along the waterfront and throughout the park. They continued the very next week by raking leaves, pick ing up litter and, with permission, planting day lilies and Guide-blue irises at St Peter's Presbyterian Church to show their appreciation for the church's support in allowing the Girl Guides to hold their weekly meetings in the church basement.

Over the course of the Guide year, the girls have taken to their Guide meetings pennies to donate to the Canadian World Friendship Fund which assists in areas such as Mutual Aid and relief for countries suffering from natural disas-ters. They collected over seven kilograms of pop can tabs which are recycled to produce wheelchairs to benefit our local area. They collected 122 Campbell Soup labels which support the World Mission for the Deaf in Puerto Rico.

As their Guide leaders. we are extremely proud of these girls and their contributions to the community and their country

For all the girls' efforts, they did have fun events as well. They had their seasonal parties and craft nights for Halloween, Valentine's Day, Easter and Christmas Slumber Party and Fun Night with games and treats. They went on cookouts and hikes at O'Hara Mils, week end camps at Camp Quin-Mo-Lac, Waupoos (Picton) and Sharbot Lake Provincial Park. They learned through participation in courses featuring First Aid (thanks to Karen Wiggins) and law awareness (with thanks to Guide Commis-

The Girl Guides and their Guide Leaders would like to thank all of the maily area residents who greeted them with patience and kindness as they canvassed door-todoor for the various organizations. Your support is greatly appreciated and is a positive contribution to these girls as they strive to be the best they can be in their own communities

Madoc supports fight for much-needed revenue

by Jeff Wilson

Madoc Village Council voted to support a City of North York resolution requesting the federal government amend legislation to allow felecommunication companies to pay municipalines directly for use of rights-of-way. The resolution is altempt to fend off the provincial government, which as part of downloading on municipalities; is taking five percent telephone gross receipts tax currently paid to numicipalities by the telephone companies for the use of municipal rights-of-way. The resolution states that the province should not take away the gross receipts ax now collected by musicipalities, and if they do then the municipalities should be compensated for the right to use their rights of-way. Federal legislation gives the telephone comparies the right to use municipal property and for this right municipalities have always received these funds in place of property taxes, according to the resolution.

according to the resolution. Madoc Village currently receives $17,000 a year through the telephone gross receipts tax, while the City of North York receives $10 million a year.

The City of North York is not only disturbed by the removal of current income from the tax, but the potential future income from the emerging fibre optics industry.

The resolution goes on to say that future demand for space on municipal rights-of-ways could amount to hundreds of milions in future revenues to Ontario municipalities.

The resolution claims that the province will be using these revenues to reduce its costs instead of being used to offset property taxes since it is the municipal rights-of-ways that are being used.

New Muskellunge size limit imposed

The Ministry of Natural Resources has announced a new minimum size limit for muskellunge to protect spawning fish in this area.

Effective immediately anglers must release a muskellunge under the minimum size of 102 cm (40 inches). The previous limit was 86cm (34 inches).

The waters where the new limit is in effect are:

- Stoco Lake Moira Lake
- Crowe Lake

* Moira River from the first dam (in Belleville) upstream from Lake Ontario. and continuing upstream to the intersection with High-

Crowe River from Crowe lake downstream to the intersection of the westerly boundary of Hastings County

* Trent River from the first dam (known as Number One) upstream from Lake Ontario, and continuing upstream to Lock Nine (Meyers Lock) at the head of Percy Reach.

Increasing the minimum allows female muskellunge to spawn as 5 6 and 7 year-olds before they reach legal catch size.

The MNR encourage anglers to practice catch-and-release fishing to fur-ther protect sport fishing.

Liust had my horses' feet done today, and took a moment to appreciate what I had in our farrier. I hope you will take a moment too.

First, he comes to my door. How many services do we have in our busy life style today, where people will come to our door? Not many. The days of your doctor stopping by to see you are long gone; you have to buy your ice and milk at the store; and, here's hoping your car doesn't break down how do you get a car that won't start to your mechanic without spending $50 or more?

So now Gerry is at my house, and I bring one of my horses out to him. While he is working away at my horse's feet, I am jabbering away about nothing of im portance, and usually not even of interest; yet Gerry has to listen, just in case h has to respond. All the while, he is being bitten by deerflies and mosquitoes which he can't see because sweat is dripping off his forehead. What a balancing act of body and mind.

Now, if you are thinking he's being paid well for doing this, let's just take a moment to figure it out: he drives to my house, so he has to pay for the gas to get here and home again. The mileage on the truck adds to its depreciation loss. The cost of insurance on the truck, along with maintenance, also comes out of his

This is in addition to the cost of the constant upgrading which is not available in this area, therefore accommodation costs, too.

And then, of course, there is his time, which starts from the time he leaves his home until he returns home again. (It's too scary to figure what this works out to per hour.)

Let's assume I have only one horse and I am only getting him trimmed. Let's also assume a trim is $20. Would you leave your home to come to my house, to listen to me jabber on about nothing in particular, while trying to trim the foot of a horse that is pulling it out of your hand because it is being bitten by five horseflies at the same time as you're attempting to keep the mos-quitoes off your back?

While all this is going on, you are wondering if I am paying attention to my horse's mouth, which just happens to be "resting" with his teeth on your butt. Of course, the fact that the sun is beating down on you is just a bonus -- because it could be rainfors now. Don't forget, now, to take out the other costs. Well, what do you think? Would you do it for $20'. ? think nry farrier is a late for the next person and exion later for his next call afterthat. Twoo'clock p.m. should mean you're ready at 2 p.m. and not 2:10 or

The other thing which he might appreciate is a little ahead. If he doesn't know the problem, he can't fix it If he did a good job the last time, tell him. And if your horse almost kicked your last farrier's head in, nearly killing him, you might want to mention that, too, Just httle things like that.

hitle things like that.

And if you really, really appreciate him, you might consider a gift. Maybe something like a potted tree or a bucket for his fountain if he is landscaping

Madoc, Huntingdon amalgamation approved

By John Campbell

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing has given the Village of Madoc and Huntingdon Township its approval to amalgamat but the news this week left Madoc Reeve Tom Deline remarkably restrained.
Deline admitted to hav

According to OPP. Brown was stopped in the village at 9:10 p.m. on July 4 for a Highway Traffic Act (HTA) equipment offence. He was found to be impaired, was arrested, and returned to the Madoc OPP detachment for breathalyset Brown's vehicle was impounded, and he was released on a Promise to Appear for Court in Bellevil on July 10.

At 1:30 a.m., July 5, the same officer involved in the first arrest observed a blue pickup being driven in an erratic manner southbound

School board, CUPE sign contract

A one-year Collective Agreement has been rati-fied by both the Hastings County Board of Education and the Canadian Union of Public Employees, Local

The agreement runs from June 30, 1997 until June 30. 1998, and meets the objec-tives of both the Board and the Union, resulting in savings to the Board of ap-proximately $245,000.

In non-monetary areas wording concerning job positions was clarified. timelines for notifying the Union of various staffing decisions were established and the seniority list for custodians, secretaries and educational assistants was separated.

Language was also developed concerning the provision of protective equip-ment for some staff, and clauses were agreed to regarding the amalgamation with Prince Edward County Board of Education. In terms of monetary isues, the Board and Union have agreed to a number of cost-saving measures to reduce the total salary and benefits paid to the Union.

Both have also agreed to restructure parts of the age to finally implement the job_evaluation_program. originally agreed to 1990, but never implemented due to the Social Contract and ongoing fiscal restraint

The job evaluation plan addresses long-standing insome Union employees were being paid the agreed hourly rate, while others had not been receiving the agreed-upon rate for the past five years.

The Board and Union were able to achieve the agreement without increasing the costs of salary and benefits paid to Union members. The agreement, however, does provide job se-curity for all CUPE memhers over the one year pe-

Major areas of savings include: the non-replace-ment of leaves of absence: changes to the benefit plan: "contracting in" of some work previously carried out by outside contractors; underhiring of one custo-dial position; and the use of savings carried over from 1996. All CUPE staff will also take two unpaid days off over the course of the contract.

The two councils will begin talks later this month about how the two will handle the transition. The is-sues include staffing and which municipal office will be chosen to serve as the local seat of government.

"I don't see any major changes as far as operations go," Deline said, because they have already been downsized by both municipalities

The village is "as tight as you possibly could be and still be able to run."

There have been 61 restructuring proposals ap-proved since the Ontario government passed the Sav-ings and Restructuring Act, which gave municipalities more flexibility to build local restructuring solutions. Also approved last week was the amalgamation of Belleville and Thurlow Township.

CRCA amended proposal

by Catherine Reynolds

Strathcona/Smiths Falls - An amended ver-sion of the Canadian Nafronal Railway's proposal to sell the right-of-way beween Strathcona and Smiths Falls to the Cataragui Conservation Authority has been sent

Conservation authority ick, confirmed last week the proposal is now in the hands of CN and the conservation authority expects a response any day

The authority sent the proposal back to the rail

recorated, sliding doors from LR to deck, many upgrades new window ove deeded right of way Bay of Quinte, $85,000 company amended after it agreed the document was unacceptable in its present form

Warwick and Larry Redden chairman of the CRCA would not disclose the purchase price of the line: an authority would like to see amended due to its status as a public corporation.

CN originally demanded $100,000 but dropped the asking price to $2 early last month. The dramatic drop in price set off alarm bells for Redden, who admitted CN's sudden willingness to sell raised questions about the national railway company's intentions, - causing a study to be called for.

In their amendments, the authority asked that the restriction on selling the prop-erty be made more flexible to allow for minor property sales and adjustments. CN's proposal would restrict the authority from selling the right-of-way or portions of it for 20 years without the approval of Canadian National, making it difficult for the authority to deal with road widening, minor property adjustments to accommodate abutting property owners concerns etc

Redden said he's been told the authority's amended proposal has been accepted but hasn't received direct

Score of 72 wins open title for B Flight player

By Rolly Ethier

Normally the outcome of a golf tournament has a fairly basic format. The golfer with the lowest score is declared the winner.

It became a little more complicated than that Saturday at the Pine Ridge Golf and Country Club when the Pine Ridge open tournament for the Campbellford Chrysler Trophy was played in absolutely glorious condi-

After officials accepted the bizarre disqualification of the two lowest shotmakers in the field of 112, Roger Sweeting Jr., who was delegated in B Flight with a seven handicap, took home top prize of the 27-inch television set and the coveted championship trophy by virtue of his one-over-par 72.

chairman Tom Crawford and his crew as well as greenskeeper Al Ingram for the superb conditioning of the course, General manager Tom Holmes of Campbellford Chrysler made the presentation to Sweeting.

A former three-time tournament champion, Roger Ling of Bay of Quinte, and young Tim Caines of Dalewood actually led the way with 71s but both were disqualified for alleged rules infractions. Lingactually disqualified himself for reportedly signing an incorrect scorecard while Caines was called for not conforming to the ruling on hitting out of

That left the way open for several other A Flight (0-6 handicaps) golfers to finish on top but Sweeting, with a front side 37 and a back side 35, took the crown, coming in from B Flight.

Long-hitting Bob Simpson and Bill Coville, the 1994 champion from Thomhill, settled for a tie for second place after posting 73s. Nextcame Chris Markle of Dalewood and Mike McIvor with 74s while demetvor with 74s while de-fending champion Frank Wendel of Bay of Quinte placed sixth, touring the front nine in even-par 36 but slip-ping to 41 on the back for 77

Havelock time warps for

Although many of the activities start Saturday Friday is part of the week end. The first official act is the Cultural Museum open-ing at 3 p.m. at the Havelock Train Station.

Follow that up with a heritage dinner of ham and baked beans at the United Church (starting at 5 p.m.); then, be sure to check out the Kitchen Kuties band at the Trackside Interiors stage ton Oak Street, just off Highway 7) at 6 p.m. At 7:30 p.m., the first of tour performances of Moments In Time will be staged at the old Town Hall.

This play features local actors telling the often amusing story of a community in the making, with characters not unlike those who founded many Ontario communities. In a lighthearted way, it shows that human nature hasn't changed much through the

Between scenes, Don Post's and Helen Tucker's storytelling will be in the spotlight, as well as some train songs from Debbie Drummond. Seating is limited - so get your tickets in advance

Starting at 9 p.m. you can dance in the street in front of Trackside Interiors, to the music of oldtime tiddlers and Deer Country, all organized by Nephton's own Bob Knox. Street dances are part of Havelock's history but it's been too long since the last one was held.

You can bit the streets again Saturday morning, but this time watching or participating in the non-motorized parade. There will be horses, burgies, wagons, people in historical costume dressed-up pets, and clowns. Prizes are being offered for the most unique in various categories, so use vour imagination and join in the fun.

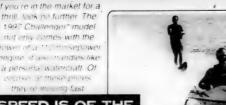

To register an entry in the parade, or for more information on the weekend's activities call 1-705-778-

Good company: Bry Loyst of Asphodel Township fascinated voungsters and their parents during an excellent show at the Westwood Town Hall Wednesday afternoon. The standing-room-only crowd learned a little more about the 15 types of snakes that live in Ontario and some of the more exotic specimens that Mr. Loyst has in his sizeable collection. After the show, visitors got a chance to take a close look at the impressive Boa Constrictor, above, which made a memorable appearance at the library.

Top golfers disqualified in Ridge golf

Greens Are Slick

No one in the field was able to beat par-- a factor largely attributed to the difficulty in putting on treach-erous greens where pin placements left many of the golfers shaking their heads n bewilderment.

With Sweeting claiming overall honours, the B Flight winner was Scott Herrington with a 36-41--77, followed by Neil Legge with 81.

Highlighting play in this flight was a hole-in-one by oung Scott Leblanc of Dalewood on the 16th hole. Leblane actually didn't see the ball going into the cup on the 160-yard par three because the flag was hidden by the tree line with the flag situated on the left side of the green.
It was Leblanc's first ace in six years of play and definitely the biggest thrill of his golfing efforts. The ace was itnessed by his caddie Krista Thickson and playing partner Randy Gates. Of course, it also won Leblanc the money prize for closest-to-the-hole.

Winner in the C Hight for 10-14 handicappers was Bill Johnson with a 39-41--79. Norm Hayward's 40-40--80 left him one stroke back in second place while Ken Gilmore dropped to third place on retrogression even though he also carded an 80.

Bob King of Kawartha Golf Club in Peterborough placed fourth, also at 80, while Gary Stewart of Warkworth was next at 81. They were followed by Jim Knight, Dave Foote, Joel Gregory, Tom Crawford and Elsworth Cox, each with a

Paul Burgess, with an 84: Jim Gates and Pete Runions, with 85s showing on their cards, closed out the top 1.3 performers in this competi-tive flight.

Morrow A Winner

D Flight honours went to 15-handicapper Bob Morrow with an amazing 77 five shots better than the 82s posted by Nazir Hosein of Parkview and Don Roy of Barcovan. Kenny Garneau of Warkworth, with an 83, placed fourth.

Pine Ridge's Al Ingram, better known for his greenskeeping expertise, emerged winner of E Flight with an 87 while Jim Wilson captured the F Flight title with a 90.

Tom Crawford won the closest to the pin prize on the second hole while Jeff Salt boomed out the longest drive on the par five 14th

Scott Crate's shot won him top honours in the sepa-rate hole-in-onecompetition following the tournament. Seven golfers qualified for the event and each had only one shot to the practise green from 150 yards out.

O'Hara Museum again open to public tours

After being closed for ore than a year, the O'Hara Mill Museum and Conser-vation Area, just northwest of Madge, is vibrant once again with the sights and sounds of the 1800s. Although the conservation area itself remained open to the public last year, the O'Harahomestead and outbuildings had been boarded up and secured due to financial constraints which prevented the Moira River Conservation Authority (MRCA) from hiring summer students to staff the facilities

The dramatic turnaround has come about thanks to O'Hara Mill board of management member Lois Wishart who solicited funds and presented the MRCA a cheque last fall for $10,0000. She turned 90 last vents coordinator Sprague says the shot in the arm has made it possible to bring the museum back to life and once again offer its attractions to the visiting

We are thrilled to see this facility open to the pub-he once more, the flower beds in bloom, the historic garden in vegetables and programs being offered to the public

Three students - Laurie Conroy and Brenda Sandford, both Madoc resi-Conroy dents, and Tim O'Rourke, of Belleville - have been extremely busy this past week getting the O'Hara house in shape. Already the popular Frontier Fridays, an activity program for children ages six to 12, are be ing held once a week at the O'Hara Mill site. Throughhouse on-site. The O'Hara homestead was built in 1848 and with its original furniture and other artifacts, illustrates the evolution of a pioneer homestead from its more primitive stages to the elgance of late Victorian Canada. The house enjoyed continuous family occupation for nearly 120 years of activities for the kid

ing, treasure bunts and historic games to doll-making gardening and an opportu nity to see how classes were taught to the O'Hara chil dren in the 1861 school-

iging from butter mak

tion for nearly 120 years. The saw mill, also built by the O'Haras, is reput-edly the only such water-powered upright frame saw left in Ontario. It operated for more than 40 years and is conveniently located at the base of a small knoll which, in former years, served as a ramp for the logs. The MRCA purchased the mill and some of the adjoining land in 1954 and continued to operate the mill for several years as a tourist attraction. In addition to the mill and the homestead, the original buildings on their original sites also include a woodworking shop and a carriage house. The schoolhouse, blacksmith shop and à collection of agricultural machinery housed in several drive sheds are additions to the museum.
O'Hara Mill Museum is

out the summer Frontier Fridays will offer a variety Wednesdays through Sun-days. More information may be obtained by calling the staff, who are based in s the O'Hara House at 473 2084 or the MRCA at 968

Frontier Fridays

Every Friday, special events aimed at children ages six to 12 will be held between 1 and 3 p.m.

On July 11 it's Garden-ing Day. You can bring home one of Jane O'Hara's favourite plants. July 18, Olympic Games will feature races and games with lots of prizes to be won July 25. Christinias in July will see the O'Haras cel ebrate Christmas with the making of ornaments

Aug. I. Tie Dye Day of ters an opportunity for young people folearn about the dyes used by the O'Haras. Bring your own used by the T-shut

Aug. 8 is Treasure Hunt Day while Aug. 15 will be devoted to making butter the old-fashioned way

Aug. 22 is Craft Day when children will be invited to make dolls.

The cost for the program is $3 per Friday or $20 for the entire program. Refresh ments are provided. All pro-ceeds go to the O'Hara Mill Museum and Conservation

Can you identify this? You'll have to visit O'Hara Mill Museum and Conservation Area to give your answer Watch for a photo of a different article from the museum

Hints can be found at the mill and by quizzing the knowledgeable staff. Participants could win a prize such as a T-shirt, at the end of summer Harvest Pienic

History of Deloro mining site has a 'dark side'

to the river. In 1979, the Ministry took over control of the abandoned site and the ex-isting arsenic treatment plant. Currently the Ontario Clean Water Agency man-tains the site on behalf of the government.

A century of handling frazardous materials has left the Deloro site with many environmental problems, as large quantities of refining stag, mine tail-ings, calcium arsenite, and arsenical pesticides re-main. Radioactive material brought to Deloro in the 1950s and 1960s remains as radioactive slag spread over areas of the site.

The consultant's study will help to identify and define the best solutions for each of the problem areas.. work will get underway on these as soon as next spring," commented Stery

The goal of this multiyear plan is to establish and maintain environmentale on trof at the site. The containment of existing hazardous wastes on-site will be a key element of the control program.

Stage 1 is scheduled for completion by next March. Stage 2 will require the Minister's approval to proceed, and involves the ten dering and actual construc fron and closure work, in iding: demolition of col fapsing structures; rin-provement of groundwater offection and freatment facilities: construction of faedities to contain and manage hazardous wastes

Local contractors will be given the opportunity to compete in the tendering process, and Stage 2 work will proceed as funding is approved.

Madoc Township asked to support skateboard park

Madoc Township council held a regular meeting July 7. Present were Reeve Gerald Reid, Deputy Robert Sager and Councillor Raeburn Robinson.

Summer help > Brenda Sandford, Tim O'Rourke and Laurie Conroy have been hired for the summer to rekindle public interest in O'Hara Mill Museum and Conservation

Absent were councillors Graeme Burris and Lynn McCov.

Also in attendance were chief building official Doug Keller and road superintendent Tom Bruce who reported that the grass had been cut along the sideroads and the Neighbourhood Watch signs erected.

Cynthia Johnston, rep resenting skateboarders, appeared as a delegation.

Four quotes were received for surface treatment of Barry Road: Duncor En-terprises Inc. - $59,269.50 (GST not included): Royel Paving - $53.029.50 (plus $3,712.06 GST); Miller Paving Ltd. - $1.86/gal (HF150P). $17.25/ton (HE150P), $17.25/ton (HL4), $17.25/ton (HL3). totalling $54.041, using the quantities estimated: County of Hastings -$55,477,98(plus$1,632.17 in chargeable GST).

Robinson-Sager moved that the County of Hastings be engaged to surface treat the Barry Road as per the quotations provided. Car-

One bid was received from David Hughes, RR 1 Marmora, for the 1976 International rock truck, in the amount of $1,025 plus GST. if required ager-Robinson moved that the bid from Mr. David Hughes be accepted for the 1976 truck, Carried.

The road superintendent expressed concern that the reconstruction of Highway 62 will result in the hauling of approximately 30,000 municipal roads this sum-

Ms. Johnston asked for council's financial support or, at least, support in principle, for development of a skateboard park for local youth. Apparently the Vil-lage of Madoc has indicated that a portion of Whytock Park would be available for use for construction of such a facility.

Ms. Johnston discussed a number of issues on the number of youths, possible locations for the facility supervision and liability of such facility. Council mem bers suggested the use of the existing Madoc and District Recreation Centre (arena) for such activities since it is already built and is not currently used during the summer months

Sager-Robinson moved to approve the report and voucher of the chief building official as presented Carried

Reid-Robinson moved that the bylaw enforcement officer pursue the removal of dereliet vehicles as ordered by the court from the property on Barry Road.

Sager-Robinson moved that the council of Madoc Township supports the resolution of the Town of Rockland regarding delay ing downloading of sery ices due to lack of informa-tion on what services will be required. Carried

Robinson-Sager moved that the council of Madoc Township support the City of North York resolution in requesting the Province of Ontario to reconsider its position on the removal of gross receipts tax from municipalities Carned

Sager-Robinson moved that the accounts of the township be paid for the month of June as circulated. in the fotal amount of $325.761.21. Carried.

Sager-Reid moved that council go into bylaws. Bylaw 966-97 was given three readings and passed, in order to enter into an agreement with the Village of Madoc and Huntingdon Township, for sharing use and cost of the rescue unit

Sager-Robinson moved that the clerk write LivingwoodDevelopments to advise that council has reviewed the subdivision agreement and has determined that the agreement is valid and that the parties involved should fulfil the terms and conditions of the agreement, Carried The clerk discussed with council the need for an advance poll and it was deter-mined that Nov. 1 199? yould be a suitable date Qeputy returning officers and poll clerks will be paid at the same rate as the fast municipal election

Madoc liquor and beer stores to open Sundays in August

The liquor and beer stores in the village will operate on Sundays for the month August.

The Sunday openings are part of a pilot project by the Liquor Control Board of Ontario (LCBO) and The Beer Store responding to consumer demand and convenience.

Across the province approximately 30 hquor stores and 200 beer stores will open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. ach of the five Sundays in August, beginning Aug. 3. LCBO spokesman Chris Layton stated that com-

Consumer and Commercial Relations Minister David Tsubouchi said the project will help gauge the public appeal for having these stores open on Sunday in the summers.

Favorable responses from previous Sunday openings before Christmas in 1995 and 1996 prompted LCBO and The Beer Stores to launch the pilot project.

In other news, more than 300 LCBO stores, as well as 440 Beer Stores, across the province will be open on the civic holiday. Monday. Aug. 4. Stores will operate their normal Monday hours.
The civic holiday is not a statutory holiday under Ontario's Retail Business Holidays Act. Traditionally, LCBO and Beer Stores in cottage country and resort areas have opened on the Road signs vandalized

Madoc/Quinte OPP is investigating the theft of and acts of vandalism to road signs in Madoc Township.

On Tuesday, July 22 several 9-1-1 road signs were reported missing to police and others had been erected at different lo-cations throughout Madoc Township.

This type of reckless dis-regard endangers the safety of the public. Road signs ensure the safe movement and flow of traffic on our roadways. Without the needed directions of these signs, serious accidents may occur or emergency vehi cles may be unable to find a specific address when igns to notify customers

It is vital to the public's safety that the culprit(s) are made aware of the potential dangers and serious conse-quences of their actions.

Madoc/Quinte OPP is encouraging anyone with information regarding this careless act of vandalism to contact the Ontario Provincial Police at (613) 968 6495 or Crime Stoppers

Madoc, Huntingdon to hold first transition board meeting

by Jeff Wilson

Madoc Village and Huntingdon Township will hold their first transition board meeting this week, as they work towards becoming one municipality in the new year

The meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 29, at 9 a.m., at the Huntingdon Township hall in Ivanhoc

The transition board will be made up of all the members of both councils.
The board will make de cisions on issues like municipal staff, choosing a municipal office site, police and fire departments

As for financial issue reserves and reserve funds dedicated for special purses in the former munici pality will be used by the new municipality to benefit only the area designated by the previous municipality. While the debts of former municipalities will be "area rated" back to the residents until they are climinated It has been previously stated that both municipals ties feel they can save about $60,000 in the first year with the amalgamation from tw into one municipality

The Minister of Munic pal Affairs Al Leach signe an order approving th amalgamation by the July deadline.

The new municipality which will be known as the Township of Centre Hast ings, will consist of five conned members, two councillors from the township and one from the village and the Reeve and Deputy Reeve will be elected at

The municipal election. which will be overseen by Huntingdon Township clerk, will go ahead as planned on Nov. 10, of this year. The current term of council has been extended until Dec. 31, 1997

House fire still under investigation

by Jeff Wilson

The deliberately set fire of a Nelson Street residence in the village is still under investigation. In an interview, Jun Mehride of the Ontario Fire Marshall's office said there are no positive suspects ashis office along with Ontario Provincial Police continue to investigate the June 24 incident, that left four people

McBride stated that results for items sent for testing have yet to received. He added that these types of investigations tend to last for several months.

The scenario of a molotov cocktail being thrown through vindow and starting the fire still has not been ruled out a window and starting the tire will this not been ruled out. In the preluminary investigation of the fire, McBride determined that the origin of the fire was in the kitchen area. He pegged the damage estimate at $50,000. The Madoc Village Fire Department received the fire call just after 1 a.m.

Ministry increases funding for long-term care facilities

Improved intelligence gathering and investigation led to an increase of 225 fish and wildlife related charges laid in 1996-97, bringing the total of 6.865 from 6,640 the previous year.

"The move to directed patrols based on intelligence information gathered makes our enforcement efforts more effective," said Dennis Beukelman, acting, manager, provincial enforcement section.

The province's evaluation and special services unit has increased from five ofheers to 21. This means that exery region in the province has the staff to gather intelligence information on where unlawful hunting and fishing activities may be taking place. That information is given to conservation officers to investigate.

Across the province, the ministry's district offices and Crime Stoppers offices receive numerous calls reporting potential fish and wildlife infractions. All complaints are followed up.

Former Governor General accepts peace award

By John Campbell

Former Governor-General of Canada Ed Schreyer issted Tweed last Sunday to receive the Man of the Year Peace Award from Lester B. Pearson Peace Park, Theannual awardwas given in recognition of Schreyer's contributions to Canadian unity while in office and for his humanitarian work as a volunteer in the Habitat for Humanity program in recent years.

The presentation was made by park owners Roy and Priscilla Cadwell to Schreyer at St. John's United Church in Tweed. Schreyer spoke briefly at the church, saying he found in "particularly grantying" to be still remembered "alter all these years" of better all these years" of better ment for the luncheon that was held in this honour at the Tweedsmur Hotel.

There he explained the duties and responsibilities of a Governor-General.

The former premier of Maintoba who served as Governor-General for five and a shall years (1979-84) and "a number of Canadians are confused by just what this office has to do especially in the modern era."

The office "has nothing todo with political power... (but) quite a lot to do with constitutional responsibility ... and the stable continuity of government."

He noted that, "for the past 200 years in Britain and 130 years in Canada, the role of the Constitutional Monarch; and in Canada by extension the Governor-General, has been one of a gradual but steady transfer of responsibility to those who are democratically elected."

The Governor-General "has the right" to be briefed, "to see all government documents and I mean all". and to interview or consult any government official before signing any act, proclamation, regulation or warrant—for—expenditure. Schreyer said.

"His common practice" for the Governor-General and Prime Minister to meet every Wednesday or second Wednesday during the year to "discuss virtually everything problematic dealing with government in relation to the formal requirements of the office."

Every three weeks or so the Governor-General will also meet with the Chief of Defence staff and deputy ministers.

Most of this is "routine." Schreyer said, but there are times when circumstances can become "very difficult." such as when the government receives a vote of nonconfidence in the House of Commons. If this happens in the second, third or fourth year of the government's mandate, dissolution of Parliament will usually be granted and a writ for a new election he issued. However should the motion be lost in the government's first year, "the Governor-General is, historically, expected to at least explore, if not canvass, the possibility of an alternative government or alternative condition" before granting a writ of dissolution.

Once a government has received a vote of non-confidence. It immediately becomes a caretaker government whose communication, with the governor-general is no longer advice to be acted upon but simply suggestions for the Queen's representative to consider.

It hasn't happened often in Canada's history that a government was defeated in the House of Commons and "the attempt was made to advise the Governor-General to carry on doing things as if nothing happened." It last occurred in the 1890s when a prime minister, whose party no longer held the confidence of the House, tried to appoint some senators and justices to the Supreme Court, but the Governor-General refused to sign the necessary documents. A special presentation was held on Wednesday. July 23 to honor two of Stirling's model community volunteer

On behalf of the village and Stirling Legion Branch 228, members of the Le-gion honored Janice and Bruce Glendinning for their countless hours of work in the community.

The presentation was held at the home of Ann Empey in Madoc, where Janice is currently staying. Ann is Janice and Bruce's daughter. In attendance from the Legion were: Bazil Kuglin, Shirley Lyford-Kuglin, Stan and Flo Royle. Barbara Smith.

Prior to presenting the plaque, Bazil Kuglin read the inscription. The plaque thanked the couple for tire-lessly giving of their time and energy to the village and the Legion. The plaque recognized their work with the Poppy Fund, school gar-den. William R. Kirk School, Stirling Festival of Sacred Praise. Theatre, church and countless other activities. The inscription concluded with the comment that their spirit served as a beacon to all and an example to be followed in dealings with fellow man

Janice was presented with a Legion pin in appreciation for all of her hours of work for the Stirling Le gion poppy fund.

Janice and Bruce's daughter Mary Ann Empey

submitted an account of the event, the following is her story

In a short but perfect visu from some members of the Stirling Legion Branch 228. my parents Bruce and Janice Glendinning were pre-sented with an Award of Recognition for their support of their community. They stood proudly but humbly together as Bazil Kuglin read the profoundly moving words to them Mother gripped Father around his waist holding tightly to his belt. Father just held Mother without benefit of belt, pulley or anything else. I stood behind them hoping first that neither of them tell and second that Father's belt would stay where it was supposed to be. I admit to having a 'What If' vision.

Sweet smyles touched their faces as these words touched our hearts. Both Bruce and Janice have travelled into the hearts of the people in the Stirling community. Imagine being recognized and rewarded for doing the things you love to

Of course, I understand this perfectly. They travelled into my heart a long time ago. To my parents I say this: You are to be commended for your ac-complishments and I was proud to share this moment with you.

Nalking wounded: There were no smiles from the wounded dragged from the real pattlefields of British North America at the time of the War of 1812. But there were plenty pantificus of prinsin North America at the united file was of 1612, but there were pients of appreciative smiles from visitors at Lang Pioneer Village last weekend following a temendously realistic War of 1812 re-enactment presented by 125 history buffs who camped transformed the living history museum into a turn-of-the-19th-century field camp. There were at least 37 tents set up at Lang focusing on a vast array of 1812-related opics -- from medicine to carpentry. See inside for more photos. Photo/Bill Freeman

Seven camp operators say "no" to Seymour

Seven campground own-ers and operators have noti-fied Seymour Township council of their refusal to pay a remittance of $30 per seasonally occupied site by Sept. 15, 1997.

A letter from John K. Hoefman of Cole's Point Resort to Seymour Clerk-Treasurer Shirley, Preston also represented the wishes of felant bank Disc. of Island Park Playground, Fisherman's Paradise Rysort, Red Setter Resort, Hickory Grove Cottages, Percy: Boom Lodge and Seymour Estate.

The letter referred to enclosed notices from Saymour council indicating the operators would be re-quested to submit a map of the campgrounds, indicat ing the seasonally occupied sites and then be invoiced for each.

"We the owners and op erators will under the present circumstances not comply with your demands,

Hoefman's letter points out.
Based upon the decision rendered by Mr. Justice Howden of the Ontario 'ourt of Justice, dated April 30, 1997, and the legal opin ion rendered by fim W Bermingham of the firm Blake Cassels and Graydon. dated June 16, 1997, your Bylaw is contrary to section 220 of the Municipal Act as well as the Assessment Act.

asserted Hoefman. He added that "as was indicated to you at the Sen tember council meeting of last year your Bylaw would be rendered illegal if a court challenge was made

"This, in fact, has been confirmed by the OPCA Challenge with Harvey Fownship, Mr. Justice Howden confirmed that the powerfoley vuser fees does not include the power to imposetaxes and to circum vent the Assessment Act The power allows main(c) palities only to set prices or charges for specific services rendered Theservices inquestion can only be those which we campground operators elect to use or not to use.

With the success of her debut album, Suzanne joined the ranks of Trisha Yearwood and Garth known as "New Country".

Suzanne's powerful voice coupled with her dynamic live show made audiences and critics turn up their radios from coast to coast.

Suzanne's second re-lease, "Dressed in Black", has so far yielded three sin-gles. The first single, a guitar heavy tune called "Judge and Jury claimed the number one spot in Dau-phin, Manitoba which co-incided with the Dauphin Music Festival, where Suzanne shared the stage with Vince Gill.

1995 and 1996 were ex tremely busy years for Suzanne. She opened for Patty Loveless, Neil McCoy, Tracey Lawrence. Ricky Van Shelton, and Blackhawk to name a few.

Suzanne performed on CBC's. Rita and Friends, hosted the Manitoba Music Awards and was nominated for the Vista Rising Star Award at the Canadian Country Music Awards

Suzanne Gitzi

With two albums to her credit. Suzanne plans to record her third this summer between tour dates, in-cluding the Havelock, Jamboree on Aug. 16. in Canada; and the US.

According to The Province newspaper in Vancou-ver, "Suzanne Gitzi can belt out a song with the best and leaves standing ovations wherever she goes. She can be truly breathtaking."

In December of last year. The Province also predicted Suzanne to be one of the faces to watch in 1997. "They wrote: "If anyone is due for major success it is country music's Suzanne Gitzi. This tiny Gitzi, whose vocals have been described as Bonnie Raitt-meets-Brenda Lee, leaves ovations wherever she goes. Encore.

This Network is the first initiative allowing both binincipalures and citizens of the United States and Canada to know about the quality of water freated in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Ecosystem, said Ambassador Fraser.

The Minister believes that co operation among numericalities and municipal bodies for the Brossphere's Great Lakes-Lawrence 'Municipal Network will shed new light on the social and economic relevance of wastewater treatment and filtration plants. It will also allow lakeside and riverside respective to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Ecosystem to be more signant regarding water resources and aquatic-

More than 80 municapathes have already indicated their mitention to join the Great Lakes-St. Easyrence Municipal Water Quality Network. The Network will be managed by the Biosphere in Montreal. Canada's first Ecowatch Centre, which is devoted to preserving water in the St. Lawrence and the Great

The announcement results from a recommendation made by Montreal Mayor Pierre Bourque at the 9th International Great Lakes—St. Lawrence Mayors Conterence, held in Hamiltonin 1995. The Conterence called on waterfront municipalities to make their data on water quality from filtration plants accessible to the Biosphere

The municipal network is one of the many subnetworks that make up the Brosphere's vast Ecowatch network which was established by Environment Canada in 1995. The objecttive of the Brosphere, the torner United States Pavilton at the 1967 World Fair, is to increase awareness among the public and visitors and to inspire them to take action to protect aid. conserve water. Super group of kids

Who would imagine that spending your week with eight girls between 7 and 11 could be nothing short of "tun tilled and enjoy able"

When these girls signed un for my horse camp. I was expecting to hear at least one argument, several misunderstandings and for sure' a disagreement or two.

I was ready: I had Chris on hand just in case we needed a "bouncer." I had several brushes the same colour in case two wanted the same one. I made sure I had enough lawn chairs to go around, and I took our haby to my mother's for a few days so Fcould spend 100 per cent of my finik with the girls.

However, all my worrying was for nothing! Not one disagreement or unkind word came about. I can honestly say they were a real pleasure to be around, and I hope their parents recogjust how wonderful their kids are.

It was so mee to see the older ones helping the younger ones - without being asked -- and the taller ones assisting the shorter ones, when it came to putting equipmentawaylete. Thope I was able to make their week as enjoyable as they made mine

The last day concluded with a show for their par-ents, neighbours, brothers, sisters and friends.

They demonstrated their leading and riding abilities. well as educated their audience on everything

Their only assignment for the week was to share their experience with you. I told them they could write about anything, but suggested listing a few this they thought you might like to know. The letters I got back were not as I had expected, but sure made me feel good about running the

My worst fear was that my interest in horses might not be shared by these kids and they would be bored. I also feared they would be expecting something differ-ent from what I had to offer and regret spending their week with me. I think I can rest assured from these letters they had as much fun as

We learned how to lead. ride, how to help your horse or pony with colic, what to feed them, girths, saddles, heart rate, trailering, tying, sponging, brushing, when they are tired and more. I think I'll be coming back next year. Thanks so much. by Michelle McKeown

"Hearnedso many things at Horse camp. I learned things like the difference between feed to what to do if your horse gets a stomach

I like the horse camp the best because Lorrie was teaching us. She swery nice. She's funny and tells great stories about her horse adventures and it's always fun-to listen to them. At the end of every day, you come home tired and full of things to tell your parents. My dream is to own a farm with horses, dogs and cats. Some day I wish my dream comes true." by Alyssa Walls-Kelly

"I had a fun time and learned a lot in the five days I was at camp. I learned about the food, I learned about the saddles and girths. I learned what to do if a horse is colicing and lots. more like tying, trailering, and lots more, I would like to thank Lorrie so much for teaching us everything." by Meghan MacDonnell

Letter To The Editor

Asks for protest over closure

Dear Editor:

There are approximately five million women in Ontario who have the choice of not ever voting Conservative again if Women's College Hospital is closed.

Why did the Harris government keep the French Jospital in Ottawa open? Pressure from the users

Please fax, write or telephone your MPP today to protect this valuable service for the women of Ontario, and to protest the decision to discontinue this service.

* Please demonstrate to show women are as important and as powerful as the French

speaking minority in Ontario

Remember, one person CAN make a difference--live million would wipe this government from the face of Ontario, Please advise MPP Doug Galt by faxing him at 1-905-372-1672 or by faxing me at (705) 653-4681.

Workplace waste reduction is possible

Residents of municipali ties making up Centre South Hastings have a welldeserved reputation for be mg among the most dedicated and enthusiastic recyclers in Canada

An amazing 80 to 85 per cent of potentially recyclable residential material actually finds its way into our recycling facility -- an impressive figure indeed.

or she goes to work for the day. If seems that all of the good habits we learn at home are often lost when we get to work. The degree of recycling in the workplace is significantly lower than in the home. Numerous reasons for this exist. For one, we are less apt to assume responsi-bility when we share the workplace with a lot of other people. The workplace en-vironment is a much more complex one, réquiring a higher level of commitment and customizing in order to develop a waste diversion program that really works.

Each workplace environment has its own idi-osyncrasies. Medical and various other health care including veterinaries, have a very unique set of circumstances that offer challenges for staff who would like to do everything they can to keep valuable resources, from going into the garbage

Issues of confidentiality and bio-hazardous materials are two of the greatest obstacles for staff to overcome in this particular workplace.

per documents is a concern where you work, recycling is actually a preferable op tion to landfilling. Through recycling the document will eventually be destroyed completely. This is not necssarily the case with landfilling. While secure disposal systems for your office pa-per are available, the obvious and inexpensive solution to this problem is to purchase a shredder for confidential documents des tined for recycling. Shredded paper is every bit as recyclable as unshredded.

Almost any paper is re cyclable now and paper clips, envelope windows, staples and sticky flaps are no problem. Papers that are not recyclable include: car bon paper: facial tissues, napkins and paper towels (due to possible contamination) and plastic coated paper (fax paper that rolls

Doll Show a feast for the eyes

Collectors and appreciators of dolls will converge on Marmora from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Aug. 2 for the annual Doll Show and Sale. Collectors of reproduction dolls, originals and bears will be there.

Visitors come to admire the creativity, the skill and the fantastic costumes of period dolls.

Some come to buy clothes for the dolls they have.

Others just come to look. It's almost impossible to leave without something that has gripped the heart, be it a feast for the eyes and the memory, a purchase of a bear for the hearth, or the costume one would love to own on a fine porcelain doll.

Dollmakers come to stock up on screwgles, pates, other doll parts and specialized needs that can only be found in the city or at a good doll show -- such as that put on each year by the Quinte-Hastings Doll Club.

Members of the club, from as far afield as Cloyne and Bancroft, meet once a month. They make many kinds of dolls to donate to various fund raising events, especially the raffle for a porcelain doll that is held every year. The retail value of this year's doll is $350, with the draw being held at the end of the show Aug. 2.

The club also donates money to the Childrens' Wish Foundation and other community causes.

Organizer Margaret Snyder, of Bannockburn, reports

over 50 tables of supplies and finished treasures will be at the Marmora Arena

Refreshments are available and door prizes will be drawn every hour throughout the show.

The dolls and bears from the competition on August first are on display during the show. Visit a wonderland of dolls and toys, linger over lunch. For information call 613-473-2910 or 613-332-1291.

Marine tip...

Safety equipment

by Sr. Cst. Mike Publow Quinte OPP Marine Unit

As many laws as we have regulating the waterways, they will never be so complete as to cover all situations a boater may encounter.

Regulations may be written to cover safety equipment requirements, right-of-way between boats and impaired operation. But, there can be no regulations written to ensure courtesy or common sense

Accidents or breakdowns that happen on the water are much more serious than ones that occur on a highway; you can't just make a phone call to get an ambulance or a tow

A boater must rely on the required safety equipment to deal with the problem. Avoiding accidents on the water must be a priority for all boaters.

If any further information on boating regulations is required, stop by your local OPP detachment for a free

A. Godin reported that arrangements had been made for the weekly-pickup of garbage from the recrea-tion hall, by a private party, for a price of $15 a month. J. Robinson reported on attempts to obtain a secretary for the transition board and indicated the matter would be dealt with at the following evening's transi-tion board meeting.

Council was also updated on the status of the county road system, including employees and equipment

The next meeting of council was scheduled for July 14, or at the call of the

Ministry increases funding for long-term care facilities

Continued from page 1 ing homes and homes for the aged than in hospital. According to the Ministry, this funding will help equip long-term care facilities to serve residents who have greater care needs as hospital restructuring continues across the province.

Ontario has also introduced a funding system for long-term care facilities that distributes funds based on the actual care requirements of residents--not on their historical relationships with government. It has set new standards for care and services. And the province has placement co-ordination services that make sure the people who need services most are in line to get them.

How Funding Spent

The $100 million will be divided into the following areas: $70 million for nurs-ing and personal care; $10 million for programming and $20 million for dietary services, housekeeping and maintenance costs to meet expenses and ensure that residents have the comfort they deserve. This brings total annual Ministry funding on nursing homes and homes for the aged to $1.3 billion. The Ministry of Health will require nursing homes and homes for the aged to spend the funding in the following areas: more nursing and personal care staff; pro-grams for residents, including physiotherapy services; volunteer and activity coordination; and improved dietary services.

Nursing homes and homes for the aged will hire approximately 2,250 new staff including about 1,750 in nursing and personal care, about 250 for programs like physiotherapy and recreation activities, and 250 in food services, maintenance and housekeeping.

This means residents will get more personal attention and time from staff who help them with bathing, eating and mobility. Homes will be able to hire more program staff. Small homes may pool their funds to share a fulltime therapist, for example.

Facilities sign service agreements with the Ministry about how funds will be spent each year. They are required to spend specific amounts on nursing and personal care, programming and food, for example.

"We are making sure our long-term care facilities are properly funded," says Cam Jackson, Minister Responsible for Seniors. "This is vital to seniors in Ontario, and it's an important step in ensuring the success of hospital restructuring."

Conservation enforcement improves species

Continued from page 2 rely solely on those tips to enforce," Beukleman said. "The public acting as an extra pair of eyes and ears is of great assistance to us. said Marie-France Bernier, district manager, Kemptville. "At no time have we asked the public to handle enforcement, nor should they."

Conservation officers are constantly improving the way they gather information for investigations, and are putting more effort into catching the worst resource abusers. These officers investigate poaching offences, assess habitat de-

The ministry regards enforcement as one of its top priorities. MNR is always looking at ways to provide staff with the necessary tools to effectively protect our valuable natural
